

WESTERLY'S TOWN HALL BONDS

Matter of Issuance of $100,000 to be Settled at Financial Town Meeting—Two Men Injured When Auto Frightens Horse—Plans for Memorial Day—Six Surviving Members of 21st Connecticut Infantry.

A matter of leading interest in the annual financial town meeting today (Tuesday) will be the consideration of the issuance of $100,000 in bonds, authorized at the present session of the general assembly for the construction of a new town hall in conjunction with a court house, for which the state has made appropriation of $50,000 for the court house and approved a commission, of which Senator Louis W. Arnold of Westerly is a member, to have charge of the court house section of the proposed building. There is no decided opposition to the issuance of the bonds, as there is absolute need of a new town hall and there is opportunity to secure the much needed court house.

The site for the new building has been selected at the corner of Broad and Union streets, with 56 feet frontage on Broad street and extending back to the fire house property in Union street. In order to have ample room for the new building with adequate surroundings, it has been considered by the committee representing the town in its preliminary to get an increased frontage, and arrangements have been made to secure 40 feet additional, provided favorable action is taken in regard to the issuance of bonds, the $100,000 being ample to meet the increased expense.

Upon the present site, which was purchased from Rev. Edward W. Babcock, now rector of an Episcopal church in Troy, N. Y., there are several small dwellings, which can be readily sold and moved away. If the additional land is purchased it would entail the removal of the Edward W. Babcock homestead, now occupied by the Babcock family and owned by Christ Episcopal church. The whole street property fronting on Broad street, including the Episcopal church down to Union street, was formerly the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

The site for the church was donated by Mr. Babcock, and the Babcock house, so-called, adjoining, and all the property down to the present site was given to the church, on condition that the church pay Rev. and Mrs. Babcock an annuity of $500. It is understood that the church authorities have agreed to deed this extra forty feet frontage and the property in front of it to the town, and from the proceeds pay the Babcock annuity, as eventually the Babcock homestead.

Nestor house, from which this revenue has been derived, will be raised or moved to some other location. The town boundary line between the church and town property would pass through the front door of the Nestor house, but the house would in no way interfere with the construction of the building, although a portion of the rear land would be utilized. The new town and state building and the removal of the Nestor house would make marked improvement of appearance in both properties, and be in keeping with the general surroundings.

Taking fright at an automobile in Canal street, Sunday afternoon, a horse attached to a carriage, owned by Thomas Leary and John Woods, was thrown out and injured. The chauffeur put the horse in the automobile and the horse appeared before the number of the machine was observed. Leary, standing on the left side of his horse, received a severe cut, and another on the side of the head, through the skull. Both hands were severely cut and bruised. The horse was driven away with less cuts and bruises. The horse went direct to the owner's stable in Morgan street.

Rev. F. H. Decker, former pastor of the Congregational church in Pawcatuck, now superintendent of the Pawcatuck Street church house in Providence, will be one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Rhode Island conference of Congregational churches, to be held in Providence, at 10 o'clock (Tuesday) and Wednesday, at which the local church will be represented. Rev. Mr. Decker's subject will be "The Social and Redemptive Mission of the Church."

The annual encampment of the military battalion of the Rhode Island State college, at Kingston, commenced Monday and will terminate next Tuesday. Camp has been pitched in Kingston plain, the camp equipment being furnished by the state, as a part of the outfit of the Rhode Island National Guard. The battalion is composed of the Rhode Island National Guard, and a band of twenty pieces under the leadership of George Hart. The battalion is commanded by Major David E. Warner, with Captain Henry Jarboe adjutant, and Lieut. William Whedon quartermaster. The line officers are: Captain Arthur Miner, Lieut. Francis G. Gulliver, of Westerly for Company A, and Lieut. Benjamin L. Harris and Lieutenants Easterbrook Robinson, Company B. The commandant is Lieutenant Stahl, U. S. A., military instructor at the college.

Next Saturday will be devoted to sports and include the annual track meet of the high schools of the state. The soldier boys will have practice in guard duty in keeping the visitors within the prescribed limits while the events of the meet are in progress. The final day in camp, next Tuesday, in addition to the morning drills, there will be inspection and review by the governor, under the direction of an especially detailed regular army officer. The camp is open to visitors from twelve until after the evening parade and lowering of the camp flag.

There are six surviving members of the Twenty-first Connecticut infantry regiment in Westerly, who served in Company, which was credited to North Stonington. The majority of these are planning to attend the regimental reunion May 15, the anniversary of the battle of Drewry's Bluff. The reunion will be held by East Hampton, Conn., the home of Rev. Thomas C. Brown, who served as chaplain of the regiment.

The committee of Building post, Grand Army of the Republic, department of Rhode Island, has completed plans for observance of Memorial day. The usual memorial services in Bliven opera house will be omitted. The observance will consist of the parade, brief service at Silver Bend cemetery and the placing of flowers upon the graves of Civil war soldiers and sailors in River Bend and St. Michael's cemeteries. Hancock post, department of Connecticut, will unite in the observance. The Westerly post has been engaged and the Fifth company, Coast Artillery corps, and Brucker camp, United Veterans, have been invited to act as escort, and the

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

has no substitute

Woman's Relief corps of both posts to participate in the observance. Westerly camp will also place flowers upon the graves of comrades who have answered the final call.

On Memorial Sunday the members of Building post will attend morning service in Grace Methodist church, when special sermon will be delivered by the pastor, Rev. A. C. McGilton. In the evening they will attend Broad Street Christian church, when Rev. John G. Dutton will deliver the sermon.

A study of the Word Gospel as Used in the New Testament was the subject of a paper prepared by Rev. Lucian A. Drury of North Stonington which he read at the monthly meeting of the Westerly Ministerial association, held at the public library Monday morning. The paper was of exceeding interest and occasioned a general discussion.

The president and secretary were appointed a committee to arrange for the annual banquet which will be held at one of the churches with the ministers' wives as special guests.

Local Laconics. Mrs. Alfred Willis has returned from the Rhode Island hospital, where she underwent a surgical operation.

Benjamin Pasobuck recently returned to the local office of the Adams Express company after a rest of several weeks.

Effort is being made for a reunion of the class of 1893 Westerly High school some time during commencement week.

Mrs. Eliza A. Thorpe, 54, died Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank H. Martin, in Ashaway.

A number of his former parishioners in St. Michael's parish attended the funeral of Mr. W. Cunningham in Waterbury Monday.

At Smith college, Northampton, Mass., the junior ushers have been chosen for the year. They are: including Miss Sally Frankenstein of Westerly.

MYSTIC

Cloze Call for Launch Party—Death of Mrs. Frank H. Thomas—Completing New Club House.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Duhaime and two small children and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rogers, while out in the launch belonging to Mr. Duhaime, met with an accident in the Mystic river, Sunday afternoon. They were speeding along when the boat struck a stake in the mud, which caused a hole in the boat, which rapidly filled with water. They at once put on life preservers, and gave orders for help, which were heard by some men who at once put out for them and brought them to shore. The boat was towed to a nearby dock where it will undergo repairs.

Clubhouse Roofed.

James Duhaill has finished the flag roof on the Mystic club house and left on Monday for Leominster, Mass., where he has a roofing contract. The Mystic clubhouse is being pushed rapidly along and is in hopes to have the building done by July 1. When completed the members will have one of the best buildings in this part of the state. New names are being added daily and the stock has nearly all been sold. The club hopes to start with a membership of 200.

New Map Planned.

Surveyors have been in town for the past few days measuring the streets, and are getting ready to make a map of the town. This map will be completed, giving the names of all streets.

Addition to Oral School.

Michael J. Holland has been awarded the contract for installing the heating and ventilating apparatus in the annex of the Mystic Oral school. This is nearly completed and will be finished so as to accommodate more pupils in comfortable quarters another year. The school has been very successful this year. The children are taking great pride in the school garden, where they spend much time after school hours.

General News.

Mrs. John W. MacDonald and daughter, Miss Barbara, have returned from a visit to East Hampton, Conn. Mrs. William Loomis left Monday for a visit in Wakefield.

Mrs. Albert Kennedy of Quincy, Mass., is guest of Mrs. R. R. Mattison.

Tax collector William Ryan of Stonington was in Mystic Monday for the purpose of collecting the town taxes, this being the last time that he will appear in the village.

BALTIMORE

Pleasant Afternoon on Bowling Green—Workingmen's Club Opens Fair—Sale of Ebenezer Allen Residence.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent on Saturday on the bowling green in front of the Baltic M. E. church by a number of the members. Some good games were bowled amidst a good deal of excitement. At the close of the games every member present declared he had spent a most enjoyable afternoon. At a meeting of the members held recently the following officers were chosen: President, Samuel Stafford; Vice president, George T. Bell; Secretary, Samuel Johnson; Treasurer, George Norcross. It was decided that the bowling green be open to all men interested in the good and welfare of the church, upon application to the secretary or any of the officers.

Crowd Attends Fair.

A large crowd attended the Workingmen's club fair Monday night. The fair opened with a very enjoyable entertainment as follows: Instrumental duet, Jovous Return, Misses N. V. and M. E. Minned, vocal solo, Mrs. Thomas Bamford, comic duet, Sammie and Tilly, Miss M.J. Milner and Harry Johnson. The entertainment on Tuesday evening was as follows: Baltic Drum corps; Flying Squadron; trio, Misses Agnes, Anna and Fidelity Donahoe; vocal solo, I. I. Had the World to Give You, Mr. Buckley; duet, To Battle and Victory, Misses Agnes and Anna Donahoe. Instrumental solo on concertina, Mr. Radcliffe. Miss Agnes Donahoe was pianist for the evening.

Local Notes.

Vital statistics for April show two deaths. James W. Badie of Hanover has bought the Ebenezer Allen residence.

NATIVE OF VOLUNTOWN.

John L. Tift, Who Died Sunday in Providence, Formerly Lived in Mystic and Taftville.

John L. Tift died Sunday morning at his home, 106 Chapin avenue, Providence, after a week's illness from pneumonia.

For many years Mr. Tift had run a fish market at 12 Cranston street and had been active in Grand Army affairs as well as other secret organizations in which he held office. Mr. Tift was disabled in battle at Petersburg.

Mr. Tift was born in Voluntown, Conn., April 1, 1842, and in his 14th year went to Mystic and attended school until he was 18 years old. He then made his home in Taftville and was employed as a second hand in a weave shop.

He later returned to Mystic and took up the same business until his enlistment, July 23, 1862, in Company E, Twenty-first Connecticut Infantry. He participated in all the battles in which his regiment was engaged until July, 1864, when he was doing duty in the rifle pits in front of Petersburg. He received a severe gunshot wound in the head and was injured in the leg by jumping across the pits. He was completely disabled and was removed to a field hospital.

He was subsequently taken to different hospitals and was finally sent to the New Haven hospital. He was detached there to take charge of the knapsack room. He was afterwards ordered to Camp Distribution, Washington, where he passed a medical examination, and having partly recovered from his wound, was transferred to the Seventeenth Veteran Volunteer Reserve corps and was sent to Wilmington, Del., where he acted as sergeant until his final muster out on July 30, 1865.

On his return to Mystic he resumed his occupation as second hand in a weave shop and was promoted to charge of the place. In 1874 he went to Providence and went into the meat business.

Mr. Tift joined Harris post, G. A. R., in 1867, and continued a member until its disbandment. He was mustered into Prescott post July 1, 1882. He served the post as officer of the guard from 1884 to 1886. Mr. Tift was also a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, occupying the position of treasurer of Mystic lodge, No. 15. He was prominent in the grand lodge and was connected with the Red Men.

Mr. Tift leaves a widow, one son, Elbert E. Tift, connected with the city engineer's office, and two daughters, Mrs. William A. Rogers and Mrs. Ernest W. Lakey, all of Providence.

Canton.—The selectmen of New Hartford and Canton are having the town line between the towns run out. The work is being done by Civil Engineer Brainard of West Hartford.

Ridgefield.—Conductor George Weil of the Ridgefield branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road has gone to Jacksonville, Fla., Havana and the Isle of Pines for a vacation trip. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter.

'Cascades' End All the Miserable Days

A Ten Cent Box Insures You Against a Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation of a Bad Stomach For a Long Time.

Primitive men did not need Cascades. They lived outdoors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat little fruit, and our food is too fine, too rich. We can't have the bowels clogged up and keep well. It means that the food retained there decays. The decayed food poisons the system. The poisons are sucked into the blood through the very ducts intended to suck in the nutriment. So we must make our choice. We must live, to an extent, like the primitive man, else we must eat Cascades.

Cascades do what the right food would do, what plenty of exercise does. The effect is as natural from one as the other. The question is one of convenience. If you choose Cascades, take them as you take food, not in large doses rarely, but a tablet at a time. That is the way to keep well. Get a 10-cent box now.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

THE CHAS. OSGOOD CO., Commerce Street.

RARE CHINA

Presented Groton and Stonington D. A. R. Chapter by Its Founder, Mrs. C. H. Slocumb.

Anna Warner Bailey chapter, D. A. R., of Groton and Stonington has received a valuable gift from Mrs. Catherine H. Slocumb, long the representative and benefactor of the chapter. The gift includes about 70 pieces of rare old china which were formerly displayed on the walls of Mrs. Slocumb's residence, Daisycrest, Groton. The collection consists of several groups of extremely old and valuable china plates of American manufacture.